

Thanks to those of you who have sent us photos and updates on your overseas experiences! We look forward to seeing more photos and hearing stories from every student living abroad. Please keep in touch!

Scott and Harriet Burris in Guadalajara, Mexico.

Call for Internship Web Journalists

As part of the internship course requirements for DMSB 706 B, we encourage first-year students to consider participating in the internship Web journals on the Moore School IMBA Web site. For details, view the syllabus on Blackboard. If you are interested in this option, please contact David Hudgens (dhudgens@sc.edu) to indicate your interest. Further information will be posted to Blackboard and emailed to students during the week of February 11, 2008.

French Track students in Clermont-Ferrand, France

Internship Stipend Dates

Students receiving internship stipends from their company sponsor through the Business Partnership Foundation can expect funds on the following dates:

FEBRUARY 4, 2008

Global Track—first payment on April 7
Language Track—first payment on May 7
 The second payment for all tracks is June 25. If you have questions, please contact Scott Kaplan (sgk@moore.sc.edu).

Important Internship Information

Please keep in frequent contact with your internship advisor regarding your internship procurement activities. Advisors need your tracking sheet and copies of offer letters so that you receive credit for your internship courses.

The Wall Street Journal is having a Virtual Career Fair on February 26th. Students can register (no fee) online at <http://www.wsj-classified.com/vcf/>.

Arabic Track students in Morocco

Financial Times 2008 Ranking

The Financial Times has ranked the Moore School first in the "Best for International Experience" category and second in the "Best in International Business" category. For details visit: http://mooreschool.sc.edu/moore/pr/rankings/ft\_ranking\_2008.htm.

New Recruiting Manager

Briget A. Collins has accepted the IMBA Recruiting Manager position. She joins us from Indiana University's Kelley School of Business where she was associate director of admissions for four years. Prior to that Briget worked at the University of Wisconsin—Milwaukee Business School as the MBA/MS academic advisor.

U.S. National News

While you have been overseas, the United States has been experiencing the most historic and hotly contested presidential primaries of all time. Check national news sites for updates that are rolling in after the February 5 Super Tuesday returns.